

VETERAN BENEFITS KIT

Three pages. Start with the one that matches your question. Each shows the answer first and puts the rule behind it one tap away; each prints. Nothing here is a VA decision — the School Certifying Official's certification and VA's award govern your case.

WHICH PAGE DO YOU NEED?

VETERAN • PLANNING A
TERM

Semester Pay Planner

Pick your benefit, tick your sessions, add your classes. One full-month housing or subsistence figure per stretch of the term, with where it comes from one tap away.

VETERAN • WHICH BENEFIT,
WHAT IT PAYS

Which Benefit Am I On

First, how to find which benefit you already have — your award letter, VA's online tool, the phone. Then the programs side by side in one line each: who each is for, what it pays and to whom, the rate with its dates, the role to ask. It compares; it does not decide eligibility — VA does.

Open the comparison → <>

THE DESK • WORK-STUDY
STAFF

Front-Desk Map

Fourteen situations a student brings up, on one printed page (the grid), with every line's sources on the pages after it: they say this, you check this, then this, hand it to this role. Among them: which benefit a student is on, a payment that has not come, full time, dropping a class, and switching benefits. The full rows fold below for the trainer.

Open the desk map → <>

The counselor's view

Open the planner and tap Counselor • Chapter 31: the same page with every rule open — training-time bands, the elected Post-9/11 fractions, below-half exceptions, the January cadence. On the comparison sheet, the Chapter 31 row and section C; on the desk map, lines 2, 9, 11 and 12 are the office's Chapter 31 rows.

Open the planner, then the counselor view → ‹ ›

IF A KIT PAGE WILL NOT OPEN — the link is private until the operator shares it, the network is down, or an issuer has moved a page: use the roles table below and do not estimate money; the printed set is the three sheets together, and each carries its sources on paper. A date on this page that has passed means re-read the source it names.

THE ONE RULE — for everyone at the desk who is not the designated School Certifying Official (work-study students, SCO assistants, read-only users): You may assist. You never certify to VA. Certification is the designated SCO's act alone — VA: work-study students "may assist with the certification process; however... they cannot certify information to VA." Rates on the three pages carry their own dates and mark themselves expired when the date passes. The fiscal-year rates (Chapters 30, 1606, 35, 31) change on 2027-10-01; Post-9/11 figures run to 2027-07-31. Links read 2026-09-02; the FY2027 rate pages read 2026-09-16.

Not an official VA document. The three pages quote VA, the statute and ODU as read on 2026-09-02 (the fiscal-year rate tables re-read 2026-09-16), and say where; the sources govern where they and the pages differ. The pages are private until the operator shares them; a printed set is the three sheets together.
